

THE STORY THUS FAR...

[1/24/19] LEAP BEFORE YOU LOOK

The party decided to investigate the injured Dragonborn.

The Bards quickly discovered this was one of their missing troupe members, Nala!

Murmur healed Nala's injuries and Nala informed them the rest of the troupe was dead, murdered by the kobolds in the ambush before they took Ashwin.

This came as no surprise to the party, having dealt with the kobolds to get with this far and only just.

After Nala got back to her feet, the party ventured deeper into the woods towards the ruined temple Squirrel spotted deeper within.

They arrived at a clearing in the woods which held the temple without encountering any further ambushes, after disarming a trap with some sort of explosive hung in the trees.

Arriving at the temple, a desperate old thing, overgrown and crumbling, the Druid leapt again into scouting the place.

Transforming into an owl, she flew to the top of the toppling tower where she was immediately beset upon by giant spiders nesting within!

She was forcibly removed from her humanoid form as the spiders attacked. Fleeing, Squirrel ran up the tower and jumped off.

The party watched in horror from the trees as her body launched through the air and came hurtling down!

